Wanda is a housemaid who loves her mistress' son. The boy is an aviator who drops out of a plane, falling through his chimney and knocks Wanda down. He refuses to fall for her charms and dashes off in an auto with a load of beauties. Wanda sees that something is wrong with the machine and overtakes it on horseback, pulling him to her just as the machine plunges over a cliff. The next day his mother has a heart attack and sends Wanda to the fort for him. ~~ard duty and she swaps clothes with him,~~ duty. Later, she gets sleepy and is ~~by the captain, who details her to K.P.,~~ peeling onions. Then she has to do picket duty at night. Next day a spy steals their radio plans, Wanda chases him on a motorcycle. She recovers the papers and meets her obstinate lover, changing clothes with him. He is hailed as a hero. Realizing that she is responsible, he dashes back to her and begs forgiveness. She accepts him.
